Open letter

Dear Sir or Madam,

I would like to introduce our project. I represent a group of businessmen from different countries (ABS Group) interested in building floating systems in Cyprus to bring green energy to a new advanced level. ABS Group is a new conglomerate. The project is under way; we are exploring different suppliers, collecting information to understand the market of green energy here. The Project is led by a new team and we expect to improve its quarterly. I am very excited to find out you, as visitors of our webpage, could help us become better and faster result of project and I'll appreciate any consulting further. We have a resource and big community to implement this project.

Generally, what we need now is to understand each other and get a support for using water reservoirs of Paphos District to build floating power plants there. We are firmly convinced that it will bring great benefits to the environment of Cyprus.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this web-page. I'm looking forward to receiving any feedback from you.
